The only clothing description available is of the leather boots she was wearing that were either black or brown, had wool on the inside, and laced up. She was carrying a black leather "Authentic Design" alligator pattern purse and next to her was a sign that read "Need ride south, way down on luck. No game, no weapons, no money." The victim had a scar on her abdomen as well as on her right wrist. She had small hands and feet, no teeth, and her ears were pierced. Her blood type was O positive and foot prints are available.
